

Coast LIFE

CATCH A WAVE, CATCH SOME FISH, CATCH SOME RAYS

TAILOR-MADE ACTION

Tailor are highly sought by both your sporting angler and those who like to eat tasty fish. The Daily's fishing experts, Mark and Matthew Planck, reveal the secrets to catching this fighting specimen – from where to go and what bait and gear to use, to the best methods of reeling them in. Check out the Totally Hooked fishing column on Page 47.

ALONE OUT THERE: The shapes weren't as edgy, but nor was the life of a surfer. Morning of the Earth allows later generations to research a past peace.

PHOTO: CONTRIBUTED

Classic revisited

Fundraiser provides new dawn for Morning of the Earth

By BILL HOFFMAN

ONE of the all-time classic surf movies, the now digitally remastered 1970s' classic Morning of the Earth, will be shown at a one-off charity fundraising event late this month on the Sunshine Coast. The film, shot by Albie Falzon, guided a generation's priorities, opening minds to a life far removed from the post-Second World War experiences of their parents.

It resonates equally today, with its themes of freedom, peace, waves and a simple life.

Terry Hannigan, Tim Gaze, Lindsay Bjerre, John J Francis, Peter Howe, Brian Cadd and G Wayne Thomas produced songs that were the movie's statements.

There was no commentary –

there was no need. The movie spoke with such a simple eloquence that made its message crystal clear.

A whole new generation of performers are now covering the tracks to appreciative audiences across the globe.

Falzon has understandably always been very protective of – and tightly controlled – the classic imagery, posters and photographs that were born with the film, but follows the generosity of good friend and fellow producer Dick Hoole in making his work available free to the Sunshine Coast's Board Meeting charity, which raises funds to assist local handicapped kids.

Not only has he offered the film, he has also allowed the movie's original 1970s' logo to be reproduced on T-shirts and hoodies that will be sold as part of the fundraising for the charity.

Board Meeting spokesman Glenn Corbet said sale of the apparel and a small auction before the screening would help improve the lives of disabled youngsters with very real needs.

The movie will be screened at Lake Kawana Community Centre from 4.45pm on Sunday, May 31.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 46

Castrol EDGE 100 WINTERNATIONALS

500km DRAGSTERS + much more!!

Thursday-Sunday June 4-7
It's easy to enter . . . Go to - www.willowbankraceway.com.au & find the answer for this easy question . . .

Q Which V8 SuperCar Team Drivers will be Drag Racing each other at the Winternationals in their actual V8 SuperCar Race Cars.

To enter simply cut out this advertisement and fill in the following information:-
Name:
Contact Ph:
Answer:

Entries close 5pm Tuesday, May 26. Winners notified by phone.
Mail to: Winternationals Competition PO Box 56 Maroochydore 4558

ONE OF 5 Double Passes

Willowbank Raceway
Drag Racing's Finest

Ipswich City Council

ANDRA
Championship Drag Racing

Sunshine Coast Daily